Friends:

The Brentwood Bocce league was inaugurated in the fall of 2001 with three teams participating - the "Earthquakes", the "Woodgates" and the "No Names". In 2002, the league expanded to four teams for the Spring/Summer season.

The expansion team is called "the Premiers", named after Angela's exercise class (where the entire team was recruited). I was amazed at the level of interest and dedication from these new players.

I have heard from some of the league members that we have a great deal to learn. They have observed some of the old timers from Antioch and Pittsburg and were amazed at the level of play.

This game is very intriguing and emotions can run, but our players have a lot of fun. Everybody is good but there are some like "Butch" and "Sundance" that are exceptional and darn nice people too.

City staff is working on the idea of including Summerset residents for a City Bocce tournament, perhaps next summer as well as expanding the league
